

Motion graphic

Sketch

In this week, we learned how to produce motion graphic using Adobe After Effect. The theme of this video is Connection which in this case, I explored as internet and device connection using contemporary technologies.

My first inspiration came from the weak internet connection during the classes which influenced the quality of learning through virtual world. I tried to show the process of me connecting my computer with my phone to receive message, listen to class and do research through multiple ways which in the end, failed. So I used very simple techniques I learned in class to express this.
